What's so good about Australian wine?

Australians are always keen to go beyond established boundaries. Let's face it, if we didn't we'd be very isolated. This attitude permeates our wine industry. We have gratefully learnt from the traditions of Europe and, over the last 200 years, have developed an exciting and successful industry that constantly responds to the changing needs and tastes of wine drinkers all around the world. Our winemakers now take our experience overseas and retailers everywhere know they need to stock at least some Australian wine to be taken seriously. Find out more
